

The Super Sleuth

1. Verb - Past Tense _____
2. Noun _____
3. Verb - Past Tense _____

The Super Sleuth

One day Matthew the sleuth was _____ Verb - Past Tense the man down responsible for the school vandalism, when something caught his _____ Noun. He knew the man was close, but he decided to take a break and look at the object. He got closer and to his surprise, he had _____ Verb - Past Tense a fossil of an extinct animal. He was so dumbfounded at his discovery he had almost forgotten about the criminal that he was so close to catching. Matt turned to leave for the Museum of Natural History. He didn't realize that if he didn't catch the criminal now, Matthew might never catch him. The crook could go under different aliases and hide from the police forever. Matthew was about to get in his car, when he heard something. He turned around and saw the criminal was running away! It was almost inevitable that the crook would escape now, but had such Matt had such dogged determination, he didn't give up. Matt ran at such meteoric speed, he caught up to the criminal. He handcuffed the burly man and put him behind bars, where he belongs. Matt then brought the fossil to the museum and everything worked out in the end