The Quisling in Miami

I farted on a           Noun           of corn. Then my but started to get warm,           Adverb           I felt a "pop." I realized then when           Noun           and           Noun           are mix you make           Noun          .           Adverb           under my butt was a pooping           Noun          . i           Noun                     Verb - Non 3rd Person Singular Present           where it           Verb - Past                     Tense                     Preposition or subordinating conjunction           so           Adverb           i looked under my butt and I saw           Noun          . I ate it. I felt           Adjective          . I died.
