my dance competition

It was my first day of dance and my dance teacher said I had to do a duet with my friend Sandra. It took weeks until we got the song and the moves right. We picked the song Do you wanna build a Snowman. I was Anna, she was Elsa. I did a scorpion and an aerial while Sandra was holding my leg, then she did a back walkover and then a split. We had soooooo much Adjective. We won first place.
