The Pancake Crab

One day, there was a crab. A pancake crab, he loved to eat pancakes while Verb - Present Tense. He would only eat pancakes if they had Noun on them with a side of Proper Noun. If the pancakes didn't have have those two Noun he would refuse to Verb them. One day he was offered pancakes,so he asked,"Will there be pancakes and Sunny D?" The man selling the pancakes said,"yes but it cost extra." The Crab said,"I only have 5000 Noun - Plural." The man said,"that is not enough!" So the Crab said,"I will be back with enough for the pancakes!" So the Noun got a Noun at a nearby Jimmy Johns. After several Noun - Plural of working,he got enough for the pancakes. He went back and the man was gone! the pancake crab got made and left.
