

The Discovery Of The Cave

1. Adverb
-

The Discovery Of The Cave

One day there was a man and he _____ Adverb to travel. He was hiking up a mountain that was forbidden to go up. When The man went up the hill he found a cave. It was not just a regular cave it had messages written in gold. The man read the messages and knew he was sitting on a gold mine. The man went down the hill to tell people about this cave he had discovered. After a year of telling people and hiding from the police he destroyed the cave and made it a bar and grill. The cave had been a part of natural history and it was the only thing from Indians that hadn't been destroyed. The police came and arrested the man for assault on private property.