Kidney Problems

Hi, I'm Proper Noun. I am a super sporty girl. I play all kinds of sports like Noun, Verb - Present Tense, Noun - Plural, and I weight lift, too. One day I was at my Number of my doctors appointments. He told me something was wrong with my kidney's. I had learned about them at school.
They filter the Adjective stuff out off your blood. The doctors said I had Kidney Failure. I was scared my life would totally change. I was told I could go on something called dialysis. There are two types, Hemo and paratineral or PD. PD could be down at home so it Verb my schedule. You had to be on for hours, but it works. They also said I would get put on the Verb - Present Tense list for a kidney. My Adjective family was surprised when I got a kidney in Number months. We were all happy and I still played sports
