

A Day as an Emperor

1. Noun
2. Verb - Past Tense
3. Noun
4. Adjective
5. Noun - Plural
6. Number
7. Noun
8. Verb - Base Form

A Day as an Emperor

It was a beautiful day in the city of Rome, and everybody was excited for the celebration. On this special day, cake would be handed out, and whoever received a small crown in their cake would be _____ Noun for the day. All the citizens, rich or poor, were lined up outside the forum in order to receive a piece. Marcus walked up to the the to grab a piece of cake and as he dug through the crumbs, he found the shining small crown. Marcus held up the small crown and shouted "I _____ Verb - Past Tense!" He was brought into the palace and was able to decide what to do. Marcus decided to throw a _____ Noun and invite all of his friends to share in his good fortune. Throughout the day the group of friends celebrated and relaxed, something they were not used to because they were all fairly _____ Adjective. As the day came to an end all of Marcus' friends left and Marcus himself had to return home. The next day, Marcus was awoken by the sound of _____ Noun - Plural banging down his door. Marcus was brought to the emperor who demanded he give back all the gold that was stolen. Confused, Marcus asked what they meant, he never took anything, everyone knew that was a crime punishable by death. The emperor explained that _____ Number pounds of gold was missing from the _____ Noun. Marcus explained how he brought his friends over to celebrate, maybe they saw something. The guards brought back most of his friends, but one was missing. The guards set out and looked all over the city, and eventually found Septimus, the missing friend, trying to _____ Verb - Base Form the city with the gold. Marcus realized that being emperor may not be the best job in the city, because at least his real friends would never betray him.