

Assimilation Policy

1. Adverb
2. Adjective
3. Noun
4. Verb - Past Participle

Assimilation Policy

A government policy begun in the 1930s and reinforced in the 1950s _____ by Aboriginal people were expected to leave their _____ culture behind and live like white Australians. An example of assimilation is the removal of half _____ children from their families in order to train for living and working for the White society. These children became _____ as the 'stolen generation.'