Rosh Hashanah

Hi my name is           Noun          . Today is           Noun          . My favorite part about it is the           Noun           and the           Noun          . All my           Adjective           sins are being           Adjective           away. Like I even have any! G-d is forgiving me. My New Years           Noun           is to           Verb - Base Form                     Adjective                     Noun          . I am going to           Verb - Base Form           this by           Verb - Present ends in ING           my           Noun          . I'm sitting across from a           Noun          . We are all           Verb - Present ends in ING          . I am           Verb - Present ends in ING           forward to the part where I           Verb - Base Form           to G-d my           Noun          .
