

Happy Halloween

1. Noun
2. Noun
3. Noun - Plural
4. Noun - Plural
5. Adverb
6. Noun
7. Noun
8. Adjective
9. Location
10. Noun
11. Repeated Noun
12. Noun
13. Part Of Body
14. Part Of Body
15. Adjective
16. Repeated Noun
17. Repeated Noun

Happy Halloween

The thing to remember, when you go to _____
Noun

Is hang strings of _____,
Noun high over your head,

So _____ and _____ won't come to call.
Noun - Plural Noun - Plural

In fact,

You won't get many callers at all

'Cause _____ is _____.
Repeat Last Noun Adverb

Besides,

its success with _____ creatures
Noun

Who visit distress on _____ who read _____ stories at night,
Noun Adjective

And sleep in their _____, without a _____.
Location Noun

The thing to remember, when you go to _____
Repeated Noun

Is putting a _____, at your _____ and your _____,
Noun Part of Body Part of Body

'Cause witches and vampire bats are _____ Adjective

And touching a sign like a _____ gives them hideous
Repeat Last Noun

Goosebumps and warts,

Hives, the welts and the itches,

Which

nobody likes, even vampire bats and witches.

But try not to toss or to turn in your Repeated Noun.

If you kick off the crosses you're gonna wake the dead.

The thing to remember, when you go to Repeated Noun

Is watch out for goblins, who'll munch on your head.

What stops them is water, so ask for a glass,

Then pour it around, so the goblins can't pass.

Or else make a run for the bathroom and turn on the hot and cold faucets and watch goblins squirm.

As a last chance,

since goblins all fear running streams,

If you don't own a bathroom, dream water-filled dreams.

So, that's my advice.

Now, just turn off the light.

Hope you sleep well the next Halloween Night!

