

Early Civilizations

1. Adverb
2. Adjective
3. Verb - Past Participle
4. Adjective
5. Verb - Present Tense
6. Verb - Present Tense
7. Verb
8. Noun

Early Civilizations

_____ Adverb upon a time, in a land far far away there lived a group of people. These people were not cave men and women they were our first civilians, coming from the _____ Adjective river valley civilizations and having _____ Verb - Past Participle through the Neolithic Revolution. First we have Mesopotamia, which is synonymous with Sumer or Babylon. It is located in the _____ Adjective crescent, the land between the Tigris River and the Euphrates Rivers. Mesopotamia was quite a civilization! They are credited with _____ Verb - _____ Present Tense us the first form of _____ Verb - Present Tense call Cuneiform! Why is cuneiform so important? Well one reason is that it allowed the King of Babylon, King Hammurabi, to _____ Verb the first laws! His laws were harsh, but they provided _____ Noun for his people.