Word Bank 101

_____Proper Noun_____ is an eight year old boy that likes _____Noun_____ that is here to save the _____Noun_____ from the evil guy, Sir Java.

It all started when _____Proper Noun_____ was going to get his morning coffee from StarbucksTM. Now he is eight so he's not supposed to have coffee, but hey what's a great story with a little bizarreness. His name is actually Jimmy, but he is called Mr. Mojo because he drinks huge amounts coffee. He was even drinking coffee when he was getting his formula when he was one. Finally after his 2,922 cup of coffee, he felt strange. He walked into a telephone booth to call his mom about this case. Of course, curiosity got the best of him before he called his mom, and he pushed the big red button instead of the small green button, and the floor collapsed beneath his feet , and he fell into a pool of acid. From then on he became faster than a speeding bullet, stronger than a rhinoceros, and from on he was known as Mr. Mojo.

As Mr. Mojo walked through a dark hallway, he saw a white outfit with a neon orange cape, and a coffee logo in the center. Above it was a TV. A head appeared. He said, "Hello Mr. Mojo, I am here to deliver an important message. The world is at risk, and it is up to you to save it. Sir Java, is burning everything up, and stealing lots and lots. You are the chosen one. You will be given a Magnetic Hammer, and powers to fly, super strength, and shots of energy to come out of your hands. Good Luck! By the way, this is your headquarters." Mr. Mojo was shocked, a normal day turned into a bad one! He thought it was a dream, but it wasn't Mr. Mojo would have to get over it. His life was changed forever.
