On the Sonnet Cassidy Jordan Sarah

If by adjective rhymes our language must be chain'd,

And, like rapper, the Sonnet sweet

Fetter'd, in spite of adjective ending in ed loveliness;

Let us find out, if we must be constrain'd,

Sandals more interwoven and complete

To fit the naked First Name of a Person of place that rhymes with be;

Let us inspect the Noun, and weigh the stress

Of every chord, and see what may be gain'd

By ear feeling, and attention meet:

animal of sound and syllable, no less

Than Midas of his coinage, let us be

Jealous of dead plural noun in the adjective genre of music crown;

So, if we may not let the Muse be free,

She will be bound with Noun - Plural of her own.
