On the Sonnet Cassidy Jordan Sarah

If by adjective rhymes our language must be chain'd,
And, like, the Sonnet sweet
Fetter'd, in spite ofadjective ending in edloveliness;
Let us find out, if we must be constrain'd,
Sandals more interwoven and complete
To fit the naked First Name of a Person of place that rhymes with be;
Let us inspect the, and weigh the stress
Of every chord, and see what may be gain'd
By ear, and attention meet:
animal of sound and syllable, no less Than Midas of his coinage, let us be Jealous of deadplural noun in theadjectivegenre of music crown;
So, if we may not let the Muse be free,
She will be bound with of her own.
