On The Sonnet

If by dull rhymes our English must be chain'd,
And, like, the
Fetter'd, in spite of pained loveliness;
Let us find out, if we must be constrain'd,
Type of Footwear more interwoven and complete
To fit the naked foot of poesy;
Let us inspect the, and weigh the stress
Of every chord, and see what may be gain'd
By ear industrious, and attention meet:
Misers of sound and syllable, no one syllable word that rhymes with stress
Than Mythological Figure of his coinage, let us be
One of the seven deadly sins of dead leaves in the bay wreath crown;
So, if we may not let the be free,
She will be bound with garlands of heroff-rhyme with the word crown
