A sonnet Writing to Himself

Young Noun - Plural should not write sonnets, if they dream

Some day to reach the bright bare Object of Rhymes with Dream:

To such, sweet thoughts and mighty feelings seem

As though, like foreign things, they rarely came.

emotion as men when haply they have heard

Of some new songster, some gay-feathered bird,

That hath over color seas strayed in hope to find

In our thin foliage here a season place

Fain would they present tense verb the Adjective things in their mind,

And cage them into sonnets as they come.

onomatopoeia; they should serve their wants most Adverb,

Till the ripe time of song, when young thoughts fail,

Then their sad Noun - Plural, like old Noun plural that describes the previous noun simile, might be Merry as youth, and yet grey-haired and hale.
