To Science Per.4

Science! true daughter of Old Time thou art!

Who alterest all things with thy peering A body part.

Why preyest thou thus upon the poet's heart,

A scavenger, whose wings are dull realities?

How should he love thee? or how deem thee wise,

Who wouldst not leave him in his wandering

To seek for Something that is valuable in the Something that is sparkley skies,

Albeit he soared with an undaunted wing?

Hast thou not dragged Diana from her A moving vehicle,

And driven the Hamadryad from the wood

To seek a shelter in some happier something in the sky?

Hast thou not torn the Naiad from her flood,

The Elfin from the A color grass, and from me

The A time when it is hot dream beneath the tamarind A plant?
