The Good Samaritan

Jesus was telling a man a story about being a thing.

A man was ing word along a thing when suddenly a group of men jumped out from behind a hill. They took all his belongings and beat him up very badly, and left him lying and bleeding on the side of the road.

A few minutes later a job was walking down the same path and noticed the man lying on the side of the road. He crossed the road and ed action word on the other side and acted like he didn't see the man.

About an length of time or so later another man called a job was walking down the road. He slowed down and walked a little closer to the man, but then kept walking without helping him at all.

Just a few length of time later another man came ing action word. He was a Samaritan. Jews did not like Samaritans. The man who was ing action word on the thing was a Jew.

But as soon as he saw the man he went over to him and felt compassion for him. He put thing on his sores and poured liquid and liquid on the sores to prevent them from getting worse. Then he ed action word the man on his own animal and took him to a building to take care of him.

The next day the Samaritan took out enough money so the man could stay at the building as above until he was well enough to leave. He paid the man at the front desk and asked him to take care of the man.

After Jesus finished the thing he asked, "Which of the three men do you think was a neighbor to the man who was left beaten on the side of the thing?"

The

man who asked him the question at the beginning replied, "The one who had compassion and helped him." Jesus told him, "Go and do the same."
