Dear Diary

Dear diary,

I met the (adjective ending in -est) guy last week. His name is (A Adjective - Ends in EST you know) (Adjective). It's a (Adjective) last name, I know, but believe me, he is anything but (Adjective). He has the hottest eyes and very (Adjective) (Plural body part). After only (Number) minutes with him he told me how (Adjective) I am and he even bought me a (Noun). He is beyond generous, he is (Adjective). I never thought that a guy like him existed. I thought I would be doomed to spend the rest of my life being in relationships with guys who are obsessed with (Plural noun) like my ex, (Ex-boyfriend). My new man has proved me wrong. Since he's been so nice to me I think I'm going to buy him a (Noun) for his birthday. He said those are his favorite. Tomorrow he's taking me to (Place) and then we are going to his house to play (Game) with his grandma. She's (Adjective) so I don't mind. I think it'll be (Emotion).

Thanks for listening Diary,

(Your name).
