

Accounting

1. Noun
2. Verb - Base Form

Accounting

Abby was a young [Noun] who loved receiving money. Every weekend Abby would wake up, [verb] downstairs, and make lemonade. She [Verb - Base Form] grabbed the [color] glass pitcher out of the cupboard and poured the [adjective] lemonade into it. Abby took her lemonade and cash box outside to her lemonade stand. Each cup was only [number] dollars. It was a [adjective] and humid day; so Abby knew there would be many customers. The first customer of the day was [name] and he had been running for [number] hours and needed a drink. He took a cup, gave Abby the money, and [adverb] kept running. As the day dragged on [number] more customers stopped to get lemonade at the stand. The sun was [adverb] going down and Abby knew it was time to clean up the lemonade stand. She grabbed the cash box and [verb] inside to show her [noun] all the money she had made. Abby totaled [number] dollars for the whole day! Abby wanted to spend her money , but she knew saving her money would benefit her much more. Instead of spending her money on a [noun], Abby wanted to save her money and get a [noun] instead. She still sells [adjective] lemonade on the weekend and always makes a lot of money. Saving her money has allowed Abby to purchase the best thing of all a [noun]! Abby and her mother created a bank account for her at their local credit union. She [verb] her money in there every weekend and has [number] dollars!