building a giant snowman

"interjection interjection!" Verb - Base Form my brother from down stairs. Building a Adjective Noun takes some time and hard work. About 2 years ago in late December, My brother Noun and I had the great idea to build a giant snowman, in front of our house. It was about 7:00 at night when we got this idea. Zach and I bundled up because it was Adverb cold out that night. When we got outside we started right away with building. The snow was freezing. We Verb - Base Form the snow balls up as big as possible. The next part was the hardest! We had to stack the Noun up, the snowballs were hard to move to begin with so trying to put them on top of a bigger one was hard. once we got the second one on we used a ladder to put on the third. After that we walked Adverb with flashlights to find the Adjective accessories. When we were done we came inside to warm back up! By Verb - Base Form Adjective cocoa and watching movies.
