New York City Mad Lib

My Adjective trip to New York City. Have you ever fought through a Proper Noun concert, well I have. I was in New York City on a vacation. My family and I checked into the hotel which was right across the Noun from the concert, and then we went up to our rooms. Once we got to our rooms we were trying to decide where to go first, and we didn't know what time the concert was going to start but we thought it was the next day so we started to Verb - Base Form about where to go and while we were Verb - Present ends in ING the concert was going on right across the street, and we didn't know! So we were too busy Verb - Present ends in ING and we missed the whole concert. So we Adverb wasted our time so we Adverb to go to Proper Noun. At Proper Noun we went on a few rides. One of the rides was a roller coaster that was very Adjective, and it was made out of all wood so that was probably the best ride there. Then we went to Proper Noun and Proper Noun. Both of those places were really cool to see, because there were a lot of street performers so that was pretty cool. After that we went back to our hotel. So the next day we decided to go sight seeing, and saw the Proper Noun which was really cool to see. The Noun - Plural was a great learning experience, because we had a guy tell us about the day the Noun - Plural were destroyed. We saw a Museum that was really cool and had a lot of interesting things, and other famous places. That is my vacation in New York City.
