What a lot of hairy-faced Noun there are around nowadays.

When a man grows hair all over his face it is Noun to tell what he really looks like.

Perhaps that's why he does it. He'd rather you didn't know.

Then there's the problem of Noun.

When the very hairy ones wash their faces, it must be as big a job as when you and I wash the Noun on our

Noun.

So what I want to know is this. How often do all these hairy-faced men wash their faces? Is it only once a week, like us, on Sunday nights? And do they shampoo it? Do they use a hairdryer? Do they rub hair-tonic in to stop their Noun from going bald? Do they go to a barber to have their hairy Noun cut and trimmed or do they do it themselves in front of the bathroom Noun with nail scissors?
