When Rush Revere is late for teaching his class, he is very worried. His horse, Liberty, is _____ behind him. As he enters his classroom, everybody _____ their heads toward him. Some girls gasp at his clothing. He smiles and walks to the chalk board and writes his name on the board. He notices a little girl sitting quietly in the back of the room. She looks sad and tired. This is probably because all the girls snicker at her and whenever she comes over they just look disgusted and move away. They are just mean!
