

What's Happening at the Wedding?

1. Verb - Past Tense
2. Verb - Past Tense

What's Happening at the Wedding?

Today Hunter and Tara got [_____Verb - Past Tense_____Verb - Past Tense____]. The ceremony was [adjective] and [adjective]. The very best part was when the happy couple [past-tense verb] and the officiant pronounced them husband and wife. It was so [adjective]! Tara is wearing a/an [adjective] gown, and Hunter looks dapper in his [article of clothing]. Now that we're at the reception, there are so many scrumptious [plural noun] to eat and everyone is having a great time [verb ending in "ing"]. I can't wait until they cut the [name of food]. Later, Tara will toss her [noun] and Hunter will throw the [noun]. What a/an [adjective] day for a wedding!