

Grady Lab Week 2015

1. Number
2. Seem
3. Adjective
4. Adjective
5. Adverb
6. Adverb
7. Noun
8. Part Of Body
9. Noun - Plural
10. Adjective
11. Noun - Plural
12. Adjective
13. Noun - Plural
14. Verb - Base Form
15. Verb - Present Ends In Ing
16. Noun
17. Verb - Present Ends In Ing
18. Noun - Plural
19. Type Of Fluid
20. Adjective

Grady Lab Week 2015

The area, which is bustling with _____ Number or more MLTs, medical technologists and lab assistants, may _____ seem _____ Adjective on the second shift - but looks can be deceiving.

There is never a _____ Adjective moment on the second shift, it's been said. Orders come in all evening long.

And we _____ Adverb head up to one of the floors to do a blood draw on a patient.

The lab staff is _____ Adverb running blood and _____ Noun samples, and analyzing _____ Part of Body fluids on all of the emergency room patients as well as inpatients and _____ Noun - Plural.

Patient care and getting results out in a timely and _____ Adjective manner is our number-one concern.

If we find anything serious , we will alert the medical _____ Noun - Plural immediately. If the rapid test results we find are not _____ Adjective, we enter them into the computer for the doctor to review.

The MLT goes about their evening plating _____ Noun - Plural and preparing them for further review.

Some of the samples we work with can be reviewed immediately. Others need to _____ Verb - Base Form and culture for some time. Organization is a key part of this job because you need to keep track of when each sample has to be run or reviewed.

Just as the MLT finishes _____ Verb - Present ends in ING a culture sample, an order comes out of a small _____ Noun near the work station. A doctor needs blood drawn from a patient on the third floor.

The MLT moves to the back of the lab where the blood bank is located. There the MLT spends time
_____ Verb - Present ends in ING blood so the hospital can accommodate its patients' _____ Noun - Plural.

We type blood for any of our patients who are scheduled for a surgery, as well as any of those who may require a _____ type of fluid transfusion.

The MLT continues throughout the night completing grueling tasks. The next shift arrives and they are briefed on what went on during the prior shift.

I really love my job. It is always and it's always a _____ Adjective.