Shabbat Activity

One thing I did [Preposition] the weekend was build a puzzle. [pronoun] started it on [proper noun]. It was a [number] piece [noun]. I had been [adjective] that I couldn't go outside, so my mom [verb] me a puzzle. I wasn't off to a great [noun]. It looked like a blobby thing next to a(n) [adjective] thing.

My [family member] was with my sister outside playing [sport]. They came inside and asked to [verb]. I said yes . We asked my [adjective] brother to help, but he didn't [adverb] want to. We had been working on the [noun] for a really long time when Shabbat was over.

We didn't even [verb] that Shabbat was over. We actually just kept on [Verb - Present ends in ING] verb] the [noun]. It was a lot of fun doing the puzzle together as a [noun]. Eventually, we [Verb - Past Tense] - past tense] the puzzle the next Shabbat. It is my [possessive noun] new favorite Shabbat activity.
