Can We Go Home Now?

The music roaring out of the speakers was loud and Adjective. Why did I agree to come with them here?

My two sisters were dancing and singing along with the musicians on stage. At least they were having fun, right?

Me being the only boy in our small family, I was expected to do these kinds of things with my Noun - Plural, even though I absolutely HATED these kinds of things! I was practically dragged to this concert against my will. I looked over to my older Noun, Katie, and whispered into her ear, "When can we leave? I'm getting bored." She looked my way and shrugged, as if she didn't know. "Ask Zoe, after all it was her idea in the first place." Katie said shortly after. I nodded and Verb - Past Tense my way through the crowd of people, the exact reason I hate going to these kinds of things, looking for my younger sister, Zoe. When I finally found her I tapped her shoulder. She turned around and looked into my green eyes. "Why aren't you having fun, Kyle

?" She asked. "Because I don't really like going to Noun - Plural. Can we go home now?" I Verb -

Past Tense. Zoe waved a finger at me saying, "One more Noun, and then we can leave." I was grateful to hear this, since I wanted to leave as soon as possible. I walked back through the crowd to tell Katie the details on our leaving time. Man, I was so Verb - Past Tense to leave!
