Wrestling Year Planner 2

This will help you plan out your yearly plans for your booking using ppvgen.

Your face of the company is _____Top Face_____. He will sell all the merchandise, win championships, and Be the top Babyface.

Your backup face of the company will be _____Second Top Face_____. He will backup Repeat Last Top Face as the face. He will be second or third in merch and be there if the Repeat Last Top Face is hurt or needs a break from the spotlight. He' s like The Rock to Steve Austin in 2000.

Your Big Heel is _____Top Heel_____. Expect a title run from him. He will be the only capable guy to beat other big faces regularly.

Your backup heel is _____Second Top Heel_____. Similar to Repeat Last Second Top Face role to Repeat Last Top Face .

These guys will be the ones that MAY get a reign depending on overness. They can be in main events on PPV's with the big guys like Repeat Last Top Face , _____Second Top Face_____, and Repeat Last Top Heel . They may even win and boost into stardom, but are here mainly for putting on good matches with top dogs. They are:

Supporting ME Face

- Supporting ME Heel

- Supporting ME Face

- and Supporting ME Heel

Up next are your rising stars. There are 2 of these. They have potential to be world champions, but don't have momentum or popularity YET. They could bust, they could breakout. Who knows? They are:

- Rising Heel

- and Rising Face

Now let's talk about some of your Upper Midcarders/Midcarders These guys are guys that can wrestle, but don't quite have the charisma or charm to breakout yet/ever. Or it may be vice versa. They're here for midcard titles and MAYBE a world title shot. They are:

- Supporting UM Heel

- Supporting UM Face

- UpperMid-Mid

- UpperMid-Mid Face

and _____UpperMid-Mid Heel_____

Now let's talk TAG TEAMS!

- _____Tag Team One I_____ and _____Tag Team One II_____: A Tag Team verging on singles success for Repeat Last Tag Team One I_____. Repeat Last Tag Team One II needs help getting known, so we put him with a wrestler without and identity yet. Get them both over somehow.

- _____Tag Team Champs I_____ and _____Tag Team Champs II_____: Tag Champs. Repeat Last Tag Team Champs I favored more than Repeat Last Tag Team Champs II . Great chemistry and getting over as a team with the belts.

- _____Tag Team Two I_____ and _____Tag Team Two II_____: Two guys gaining steam while getting there footing. Both trying to get over.

- _____Tag Team Three I_____ and _____Tag Team Three II_____: Two guys who need to develop as a team and with overness . A case of putting two guys together as a team to get them over faster.

- _____Tag Team Four I_____ and _____Tag Team Four II_____: Tag Team Filler. Big things not planned for either. Not much PPV time.

- Tag Team Five I and Tag Team Five II: Not over and no one cares about them. It's why they're teamed up. People might care about them as a team.

- Tag Team Six I and Tag Team Six II: Same as above.

Back to singles guys.

The following are guys that maybe one or two out of the pot will make it past this. Guys without a purpose. Midcard Purgatory sucks! You better hope you get a lucky break and get wildly popular. The following are midcarders hoping to put on good matches to impress:

- Midcard
- Midcard
- Midcard Face
- Midcard Heel
- Midcard Heel
- Midcard
- Midcard Face
- Midcard Heel

Midcard

- Midcard

- LowerMid Trash
