Let me tell you a story...

There once was a Noun who went to the Noun, when he returned he was a changed Noun. They never talked about their experience, They only sang about a man who had seen a Adjective sight and something about a Adjective They. Nothing was ever the same, They ate their Noun upside down and decided to Verb - Base Form that way too, everything was upside down... or backwards, don't ask me why, I don't have the answers. Oh I can Verb - Base Form about what their Noun is... mostly Food and food, its Adjective plain. I Adjective a Noun all about them it's called a Noun who returned from the Noun but there is also a spin-off version called Noun and Noun: a man's return from the Noun planet. Yeah, my Occupation is a Type of person, but hey I kind of need them... or do I? Oh I've started Verb - Present ends in ING... sorry about that.
