Little Red Riding Hood

Once upon a time there lived in a certain village a little country girl, the prettiest Noun who was ever seen. Her mother was excessively fond of her; and her grandmother doted on her still more. This good woman had a little red riding hood made for her. It suited the girl so extremely well that everybody called her Proper Noun Red Riding Hood.

One day her mother, having made some cakes, said to her, "Go, my dear, and see how your grandmother is doing, for I hear she has been very ill. Take her a Noun, and this little pot of Noun."

Little Red Riding Hood set out immediately to go to her grandmother, who lived in another village.

As she was going through the wood, she met with a wolf, who had a very great mind to eat her up, but he dared not, because of some Adverb working nearby in the forest. "Does she live far off?" said the wolf

"Oh I say," answered Verb - Present Tense Red Riding Hood; "it is beyond that mill you see there, at the Adjective house in the village."

"Well," said the wolf, "and I'll go and Pronoun her too. I'll go this way and go you that, and we shall see who will be there first."
