John and His Zebra

John was a _____ Adjective man. He was from the country of _____ Proper Noun, and he had an _____ Adjective pet. His pet brought a lot of _____ Noun to him and was constantly being asked "What does he eat?" and "How did you get him". John always replied with _____ Proper Noun and _____ Proper Noun with a little _____ Noun the side, and he said he got the zebra from Ebay. This zebra did eventually bring John his future _____ Noun. Him and his _____ Noun loved long zebra rides on the _____ Noun in the heat of the day, 2 p.m. The zebra got lonely, so John got zebra a friend, a hippo. The hippo did not bring him much _____ Noun, but was a _____ Adjective animal. Then John got in a wreck and both of his animals were in the car. Both animals died.
