Talk of the Town

Today I heard a story from my relation name that took me by surprise. We live in a large small etc town so hearing something Adjective happen, was practically unheard of. There are only about number people in our town so more or less everyone Verb - Present ends in S each other. My family for example have number neighbouring type of housing on our street. Our elderly neighbour name, number years old, adverb tells us any gossip when he comes round for food.

My friend name who I met for food this time of day greeted me with "exclamation" "you wont believe what happened!" I immediately Verb - Past Tense him for details and he began:

At the queue for the transportation an old man was Verb - Present ends in ING his Noun out of his pocket when a group of type of people Verb - Past Tense up direction behind etc him and Verb - Past Tense him direction behind etc the body part! Other people around, especially a young relation named name tried to Verb - Base Form him back up and Verb - Base Form the type of people away. They apparently wanted to Verb - Base Form his Noun - Plural, but it turns out he only had number dollars in his pocket. After that the type of people were called to catch the type of people, as they Verb - Past Tense from the scene. The old man, named name, was ok and said he had _____ Verb - Past Tense _____ them before in the _____ location _____ last _____ time frame eg week _____.

He said he _____ Verb - Past Tense _____ to them saying " _____ exclamation _____ " after they tried to _____ Verb - Base Form _____ in the queue _____ direction behind etc _____ of him. The youngest member of the _____ type of people _____ was just _____ number _____ and they were a _____ Adjective _____ to the town.

I couldn't believe it, our town is normally so _____ Adjective _____. We have only had _____ number _____ violent incidents so far this _____ time frame eg week _____, and the police are said to be _____ Verb - Present ends in ING _____ for the _____ type of people _____. They apparently hang out in the _____ location _____ to _____ Verb - Base Form _____ and _____ Verb - Base Form _____.

I have already seen _____ number _____ officers walking in town, must be to _____ Verb - Base Form _____ any more crime in our town.

The next _____ time frame eg week _____, I saw the local paper had written about it. But they got the information wrong!

They wrote:

_____ number _____ type of people _____ Verb - Base Form _____ number _____ old _____ man or woman _____

They also wrote the man _____ Verb - Past Tense _____ number _____ of the boys _____ direction behind etc _____ the _____ body part _____,

and even _____ Verb - Past Tense his _____ body part. But that doesn't sound right, hopefully in tomorrow's issue they _____ Verb - Base Form the information....
