A day in the life of prince philip once upon a time a Adjective Noun was Verb - Present ends in ING through the woods with his Adjective Noun, He Verb - Past Tense to look at the Adjective Noun - Plural. ' Noun cant breathe' he said before collapsing to the ground in tears; for those Noun - Plural were not infact flowers at all they were pieces of his mothers Adjective - Ends in EST cloak. 'She must have torn it strolling through the woods' he wept. The Noun - Plural got off the horse and bent down to comfort the Adjective prince. 'fak off you filthy half breed' he screeched. The Noun was startled. 'I do appologise' said the prince wiping the tears from his face. 'but when a Noun is broken' he continued ' no mere Noun will be able to put him back together'.
