It all started with a Noun, nothing less Adjective than that. A Noun. That's where we first Verb - Past Tense as Noun - Plural, hiding in the Noun of the it hoping to Verb Adverb from the Adjective Noun; musta been the Adjective - Superlative day that year. It was a Sunday, I remember, because I had a Noun from church, but you, you had nothing; nothing but the Noun - Plural on your back and the Noun of the Noun. I felt bad for you, so I gave you my Noun, and Verb - Past Tense on the Noun - Plural from it to stay Adjective. We Verb - Past Tense. You said it was your first Adjective Noun. When you finished it we Verb - Past Tense the Noun, Verb - Present Tense carefree from each Noun. I said it was a Noun, and you said we should play Noun - Plural. So we Verb - Past Tense around- not leaving the Noun - Plural saving Noun - Plural from Noun - Plural and trying to Verb - Base Form Noun - Plural like Noun - Plural. I didn't even catch your name before I remember my Pa Noun - Plural at me. "First Name of a Person!" He said all Adjective, "Get away from that Noun!" Somehow he seemed Adjective, so I Verb - Past Tense around, expecting to find some Adjective Noun. "First Name of a Person", I said get away from that Noun!" So I looked down, perhaps a Noun wasn't an Noun but an Noun. Then I noticed he was Verb - Present Tense at you. I looked at you: you weren't Adjective, you weren't Adjective. But before I could ask why, he came over and started Verb - Present Tense at you. You Verb - Past Tense. He turned to me and got all Adjective,

"You can't _____ with _____, _____. They ain't _____, it's like lookin' at the _____. " Well I was a _____ then, I was _____, and I didn't know what a _____ was. Pa was glad to tell me. He _____ to me that people like you had to stay away from people like me, and that's why there's _____ of everything: two _____, two _____, two water _____, and all so that there could be one for you, and one for me. "Why can't we _____?" I didn't understand, having _____ of everything seemed _____. He simply said that we couldn't get mixed up with people like you.
