Dorm Room Surprise

Boy Name had always been into Girl Name. Her Adjective Color Part of Body were the first things that he ever noticed. As he saw her around the campus of their college, he always seemed to catch her eye and see that she was always smiling at him. Just the looks he caught from her were like electricity going up his Part of Body and into his head which usually ended up with him feeling light-headed. As time went on, he began to notice some other things about her as well, besides her beautiful eyes, short black hair, or the ruby red lipstick she seemed to wear often; he was beginning to notice the large size of her Part of Body and how nicely rounded they were sticking through her tight shirts seemed to wear. He also had a hard time not starrng at her tight Part of Body.

But one late night he was just sitting at his computer with the lights off as its blue shine illuminated the room. He was playing an online game quietly. But in the bottom, right-hand corner of his screen, he saw a notification pop up. It was an email from an unknown sender. The subject read: "Hi". Curiosity got the best of Boy Name as he clicked on the email to open it up. The body of the email had nothing written but there were several attachments. Three image files and a video file.

He clicked open one the first image file and what he saw made his stomach tighten. There on his screen was an image of a girl, her bare breasts exposed, lying in a sexy curved position on a bed. The image only showed from the bottom of the face to the bare hip bones. Boy Name was taken aback by the graphic image and wanted to know who it was from, he looked at the face that was barely in the picture and saw that it was Girl Name possessive. He minimized the image and opened up the next two right away. The first of the two he opened up was her up against the wall with her back turned towards the camera, she was completely naked except for some high heels she had one which added to the extra bit of sexy to her already sexy body. She had her head barely turned as she seemed barely interested in the camera at all. But even though her face was barely visible behind her shoulder, Boy Name could tell that it was Girl Name once again as he recognized the short black hair and large brown eyes. The last image was a close up shot between her legs, in this picture she had on a black thong but sides of her Part of Body were slightly visible due to the fact that Girl Name had her fingers inside the front of the thong, obviously playing with herself but hiding any additional view of her wonderful Part of Body.

Boy Name possessive

body began to tremble at what this all meant. Who was sending these to his personal email? Was it one of his friends who knew he had a crush on her and they had taken these to brag? Was it _____ Girl Name herself? It seemed very possible considering that he didn't recognize the email but how did she get his?

_____ Boy Name didn't bother reading into the meaning anymore and decided that he'd open up the video file.
