Reign of Terror

Once upon a time Robespierre was eating a cracker and the sun went down and the cracker ran away. The next day the cracker filed a complaint about Robespierre holding him wrong when he was about to eat him. The cop cracker who is 2.1 in tall went go arrest Robespierre when the guillotine was right beside him. He apoligized to the cracker and told him he would be more careful. Robespierre told him to sit on the Noun and he would cut him more precisely. They were friends until the sun came down.
