Iowa Stubborn

Townspeople:

Oh, there's nothing Adjective

About the Iowa way to Verb - Base Form you,

When we Repeat Last Verb - Base Form you

Which we may not do at all.

There's an Iowa kind of Adjective

Noun attitude.

We've never been without.

That we recall.

We can be cold

As our falling Noun - Plural in December

If you ask about our Proper Noun in July.

And we're so by First Name of a Person stubborn

We could stand touchin' Noun - Plural

For a week at a time

And never Verb - Base Form eye-to-eye.

But what the Noun, you're welcome,

Join us at the Noun.

You

can eat your fill

Of all the Noun - Plural you bring yourself.

You really ought to give Location a try.

Provided you are Adjective,

We can be cold

As our falling thermometer in December

If you ask about our weather in July.

And we're so by God stubborn

We can stand touchin' noses

For a week at a time

And never see eye-to-eye.

But we'll give you our Noun

And a Part of Body to go with it

If your Noun - Plural should happen to die.

Farmer:

So, what the Noun, you're welcome,

Glad to Verb - Base Form you with us.

Farmer

and Wife:

Even though we may not ever _____ it again.
