Greetings and Defiance!

The Lone Power is a/n Adjective force, yet there are still many notable occasions in which wizards have been able to thwart It. One such example is that of a young wizard from the Adjective Noun galaxy whose homeworld was being overrun by Name of an alien species plural. Due to the Lone Power's Noun influence, the Repeat Last Name of an alien species plural were multiplying rapidly and destroying the planet's Verb - Present ends in ING supply. Through the creative use of a Verb - Present ends in ING spell the wizard was able to convince the Repeat Last Name of an alien species plural to relocate to a nearby planet whose Adjective ecosystem better suited their Adjective disposition. This is, as of yet, the only instance in which someone was able to best the Lone Power simply by Repeat Last Verb - Present ends in ING.
