

Plan To Not Get Anymore Homework

1. Noun - Plural
2. Adjective
3. Coordinating Conjunction
4. Adverb
5. Preposition Or Subordinating Conjunction
6. Number
7. Verb - Past Participle
8. Verb - Past Participle
9. Adverb

Plan To Not Get Anymore Homework

The Noun - Plural of PSIS 78Q are Adjective Coordinating conjunction angry of always getting so much hard homework. They couldn't stand one more night with homework. One rainy day the students in 7th grade all got together to make a plan to get rid homework for once and for all. They were in the cafeteria eating breakfast and discussing the plan. First they would talk to the teachers Adverb. If that failed they would all go into the principle's office and complain about it. If that backfired they would not come to school for 3 days . So the first thing they did when they got to class was tell them why they shouldn't have anymore homework.

The teacher refused to listen to them and said she has to give them homework. Next thing Preposition or subordinating conjunction lunchtime instead of going to the lunchroom they all went to the principle's office. It stated out peacefully but as soon as he said no they all started screaming at his face. So as a result the principle said we weren't aloud to go outside for recess for Number months. The very next day none of the students came to school not one. The very same thing happened the next 2 days. The principal got Verb - Past Participle so he called all of their parents for a meeting and told them everything that happened.

So the kids got in trouble and was Verb - Past Participle at home too. They all came to school the next day and instead of getting no homework they got Adverb as much homework now.