Lady Needs a Helping Hand

One day, Lady was helping Sir Topham Hatt with a very Adjective task. She was in charge of baking the other engines a Adjective New Year's cake. The only problem was that Lady did not know how to Verb - Base Form! The first cake she tried turned out terribly Adjective. The second cake she tried turned out too Adjective. Lady felt like she was going to Verb - Base Form. Luckily, her friend James happened to be Verb - Base Form by. James has a Adjective talent. He was a world Noun baker. James was able to help Lady make the most delicious flavor cake. When it was time for the engine's New Years celebration, they all shouted exclamation and Adverb ate up the Adjective cake. Sir Topham Hatt thanked Lady for all of her Adjective work, and she in turn thanked James for all of his Noun.
