the day it hit

I woke up and went to the pool and the rain dumped down. I went inside and cut up a piece of sugarcane and gnawed on it until my teeth hurt. A giant hailstone fell through my crystal glass skylight and fell in my pool with a splash so big my deck was flooded. the coconut tree in my yard fell through my roof. the tornado whipped through and lifted me and threw me all the way to the Caribbean sea. I saw a fiery red light as I fell into the darkness. Noun
