

Poem

1. Color _____
2. Number _____
3. Item _____
4. Color-Haired _____
5. Noun - Plural _____
6. Body Part _____
7. Adjective _____

Poem

Against the _____^{Color} arm-rest leaned a girl Of _____^{Number}, holding a _____^{Item}, twisting a curl, Drumming her heels in boredom on the floor Until a _____^{Color-Haired} gentleman who saw She hated travelling produced a case Of _____^{Noun - Plural}: 'Seven Germans run a race ...Unwind this maze, escape the lion's paw ...The princess must be lowered by her _____^{Body Part} ...'The train entered a tunnel, shrieking, all The lights went _____^{Adjective} and when he took her hand She was the princess in the tower and A lion faced her on the moonlit wall Who roared and reached and caught and held her there.