scare

It was a dark cold Tuesday night at the Art institute. I walked quickly up 3 cold damp stairs to make it to class only 3 minutes late. As I turned the corner my legs started to get wobbly and heart was beating wildly. I didn't want to go in there. The smell was awful and the sound of the instructor Joel scream out JavaScript, html, and php was terrifying. I stood in front of room 230, _____ Adjective _____ and shaking.
