Wine Tasting

The wine has a [paint chip color] found on a paint chip sample] tint and shows a [pretentious adjective] brightness and clear edges. On the nose it expresses a [type of rock] minerality with a [collective noun] of [type of flowers no one has heard of]. The wine's palate is redolent of [fruit], [vegetable] and [Proustian memory of a distant childhood]. The finish is long and shows a character of [something carcinogenic] and [French Village] making it a pure expression of terroir. [Completely arbitrary number between 80 and 100] Points.
