At the far end of town

where the Noun grows

and the wind smells Adjective when it blows and no Noun ever sing excepting old crows...

is the Street of the Adjective Noun.

And deep in the Noun, some people say, if you Verb - Base Form deep enough you can still see, today, where the Lorax once stood

just as long as it could before somebody Verb - Past Tense the Noun away.

What was the Noun?

And why was it there?

And why was it Verb - Past Tense and taken somewhere from the far end of town where the Noun grows?

The Adjective Noun still lives here.

Ask him. He knows.
