Happy Monthiversary !

On a Adjective day in Kingston Ontario, Joshua and Rachel were waking up in their big, cozy Noun. They sleepily opened their Noun - Plural, only to discover that in the night a Adjective thing had happened. Their Noun had been turned into a gingerbread house! The walls were made of Noun, and the bed was layers of Noun - Plural. All their clothes had turned in Noun Noun. Rachel was Adjective! Joshua was more Adjective, and thought they should consult a local witch Noun for answers.
