

Thrillville

1. Proper Noun
-

Thrillville

(Page 1)

It is your thirteenth birthday and your parents are allowing you to spend it at an amusement park! You choose to celebrate it at Thrillville Amusement Park. Your brother, Nick, your mom and dad, and you are going to spend the week at Proper Noun .

You've stuffed your suitcase with all your clothes and necessities for the trip. Your mom and dad have finished putting all the items and suitcases in the car. You are now ready to head off to the airport with your family.

After a twenty minute car ride to the airport, you are eventually there and are about to board your flight. After two hours of turbulent and salted peanuts, the plane lands safely in Orlando, Florida.

In celebration of your birthday, the limousine arrives and picks you and your family up. You are taken to your very fancy hotel right next to Thrillville. Your mom and dad check in while you and your brother wait in the lobby. Once you are checked in, you guys take the elevator up to your room.

You and your family get to your beautiful room. There are three bedrooms, each with a gorgeous view. Amazed by the appearance, you hang out in there all night relaxing and enjoy your first night there. After a long yet exciting day, you all quickly fall asleep in your comfortable and cozy beds.

