Murder here i come...

That night, he came alone to the restaurant. It was the place where he Verb - Past Tense Christina for the first time. He was so smitten with her that he would just stand and stare at her the whole night. When he knew that she was the girlfriend of his best friend, Brian, he was enraged. He smashed all things in his sight at home. He was furious that such a beautiful girl was engaged to Brian two weeks later.

He began to plot Brian's death. He plotted that Brian would die from consuming poison at first. then, he decided that would be too easy for Brian. He bought a gun from the shop and some bullets. He found out that Brian would be going for a hunting trip that weekend. So, he lay waiting at the bush above the ridge. That was a favourite sport for hunting deers in that area.

When Brian and his friends came hunting, he lifted his gun to his eye, took aim and readied himself for the shot. Just as he was about to press the trigger, Brian fell to the ground. He couldn't believe his eyes. Brian was supposed to die from his gunshot. But now he was dead. Who had killed him?
