Outsiders (P.78-79)

By the fifth day I was so Verb - Past Participle of baloney I nearly got sick every time I looked at it. We had Verb - Past Participle all our candy bars in the first Number days. I was dying for a Pepsi. I'm what you might call a Pepsi addict. I Verb - Non 3rd Person Singular Present them like a Noun, and going for Number days without one was about to kill me. Johnny promised to get Determiner if we ran out of Noun - Plural and had to get some more, but that didn't help me right then. I was Verb - Present Tense a lot more there than I usually did--- I guess because it was something to do--- although Johnny Verb - Past Tense me that I would get sick smoking so much. We were careful with our Noun - Plural if that old Noun ever caught fire there'd be no Noun it.
